Rights of a data subject:

1. The right to revoke consent to the processing of personal data
 - If the RFA MOI processes your personal data on the basis of your consent, you have the right to withdraw this consent at any time.
2. The right of access to personal data
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to obtain confirmation from the RFA MOI as to whether or not your personal data are processed. If your personal data are processed, you also have the right to access them.
3. The right to rectification of your personal data
 - If you discover an inaccuracy in your personal data, as the owner of your personal data you have the right to request that the RFA MOI rectify any inaccurate personal data without undue delay. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, you also have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by providing a supplementary statement.
4. The right to erasure of your personal data
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to request the RFA MOI to erase your personal data. However, there is no right to erasure of data if there is a statutory exception.
5. The right to restriction of personal data processing
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to request the RFA MOI to restrict the processing of your personal data.

6. The right to portability of your personal data
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to obtain personal data concerning you in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, and you have the right to request the transfer of these data to another controller without hindrance from the RFA MOI, if the personal data are processed on the basis of your consent or the processing is carried out by automated means.
7. The right to object to the processing of your personal data
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data at any time if the legal right to the processing is the performance of a task in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority, or if the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests of the controller or a third party. The RFA MOI will not further process personal data unless it proves serious legitimate reasons for such processing that override your interests, rights and freedoms, or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
8. The right not to be subject to automated individual decision-making, including profiling
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right not to be subject to any decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you.
9. The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority
 - As the owner of your personal data, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Office for Personal Data Protection, registered office Pplk. Sochora 27, 170 00 Prague 7, email: posta@uouu.gov.cz, if you believe that the processing of your personal data by the RFA MOI violates the GDPR.
